

Exchange Disclaimer

Platform Role

This platform is provided to help members connect with each other for exchange opportunities. We do not participate in, manage, or guarantee any exchange arrangements between users.

User Responsibility

Members are responsible for communicating directly with each other and making their own decisions before agreeing to an exchange. We encourage users to discuss important details such as:

- Exchange dates
- Vehicle or property condition
- Insurance arrangements
- Driver eligibility or licence requirements
- Any additional terms agreed between both parties

Contact Information

Contact details are only shared after an exchange request has been accepted by the listing owner.

Liability

This platform is not responsible for:

- The accuracy of listing information.
- The condition, availability, or suitability of any vehicle or property.
- Any financial loss, damage, accident, injury, or dispute arising from an exchange.
- Agreements made directly between members.

Safety

We encourage all members to communicate openly, verify important information, and ensure they are comfortable with the arrangement before proceeding with any exchange.

Acceptance

By submitting an exchange request, you acknowledge that you have read and understood this disclaimer and agree that all exchange arrangements are made directly between users.